The Minton residence, like most average American homes is always buzzing with problems. There is teen-age Jerry, with her ever-faithful boy-friend, Albert, who is constantly under Mrs. Minton's feet. Diana, whose big moment, Tom, has just returned from China. Since he left she has been studying up on every book that should interest a boy, trying to make herself intelligent so that, upon his arrival, Tom will be swept off his feet and propose. The younger portion of the family, Scoots, spends most of her time conditioning her frog, Pegasus, for the frog-jumping contest, intent upon winning first prize, a puppy. Grandma Thornton has decided to come and visit her daughter, Martha, and upon arriving sees that there are many changes to be made in order to please her. Grandma sees that Martha has become far too efficient and businesslike to hold her husband, Roger, and is determined to put the run on the menacing widow, Eve, Tyler.

This play was a great success and everyone enjoyed working on it.

Don Stueve, Henning high school's six-man team captain, scored 66 points in the first four games of the season with Arden Fosse, 210-pound fullback, making 40 in three. An ankle injury kept Fosse from competing in the fourth game as his team dropped a 32-31 decision to Battle Lake . . .

The Henning Hornets, although plagued with injuries throughout the season, ended up with a fairly successful 5-2 win-loss record. The main heartbreaker was the one point setback by Battle Lake where the Battlers won in the last 5 seconds of the game. The Hornets lose five lettermen this year, but have some great talent coming up for next year, and should prove to be a hard team to beat.

The Henning basketball season wasn't too successful this season. Having only two lettermen back, the Hornets found it difficult to break into the win column. Next season, however, should prove to be much more successful for the Hornets, as they have 7 returning lettermen.

Baseball

This is the first year of baseball for the Henning High School since 1947. There are many prospects turning out, and a fair team should be formed. The schedule is 2 games each with Bertha, Parkers Prairie, and Deer Creek.

Track

The track team has 4 lettermen this year and a large number of boys coming out. A good team should represent Henning this year.

Class Prophecy

This is the year twenty-one hundred plus two. We are looking on the old Henning High School football field. In it we see five rows of tombstones, nine in each row and one more heading the group. We can't help but think back 150 years where the graduating class of 1952 pledges to keep some of the old sentiment for Henning High alive by purchasing the former football field and vowing wherever they may be when their time came, they were to be buried in this field. HERE THEY LIE:

Here lies IRMGARD MEYER: Since she was valedictorian, Irma was buried at the foot of her class. She gained honor and fame by becoming the United States first woman president.

Here lies BARBARA ALBRIGHT: She became captain of the Brown Eyed Brunettes and dribbled her way to fame.

Here lies PHYLLIS AMUNDSON: She spent her life at the seashore, and changed her name to Hannah.

Here lies LORRAINE ANDERSON: She was a designer of coats for Pekinese dogs.

Here lies PHYLLIS ANDERSEN: She spent her entire life assisting Dr. Mayo at Rochester to cut an outgrown fingernail.

Here lies ARLENE AUNE: Arlene became Miss Hit and Miss of the USA.

Here lies JOSEPHINE BARKER: She made her career successful by playing second fiddle in Harry James orchestra.

Here lies LAVERNE BENDICKSON: He took over his pop's orchestra, made a million, and fixed up his '31 Chevrolet.

Here lies MERLIN BENDICKSON: He was founder and president of the Bendickson Hand Pickle Picker Company.

Here lies RICHARD BROGARD: He printed a new sensational comic strip called, "Chuck, Duke, and Harry."

Here lies ORVILLE HEARD: Orville, while still in the early 80's, invented a chicken without teeth.

Here lies GORDON HETLAND: He went to the University of Canada and became head cheerleader, because of his speaking ability.

Here lies ETTA HOFFERBERT: She became the first woman jet pilot.

Here lies GORDON JENSEN: He was an agriculture genius, and gave the world a new insecticide that killed plants.

Here lies FRANCES JUVRUD: She edited the newspaper "The Snooper."

Here lies JOANNE LUEDERS: She resided in New York Mills and ran the Tick Tock cafe, making a booming business out of it.

Here lies CLARENCE NELSON: He drove for Jimmy Lynch and his Death Dodgers.

Here lies EVELYN NELSON: She invented the Hidy Didy Breakfast food.

Here lies MARLYN BRUTLAG: While searching for the fountain of youth, he discovered a product known as Red-Brite to bring out the highlights in red hair.

Here lies ARVILLA CHASE: She bought out the Arvilla Ice Cream Company and was an ice cream vendor on the streets of Paris.

Here lies KENNETH CHRISTOPHERSON: He was a splatter painter in a tattoo shop.

Here lies DINA COX: Dina was a trapeze artist with Barnum and Baily starring in "Under The Big Top."

Here lies NORMAN ELLENSON: He was a lifetime chief executive with a monkey wrench.

Here lies JAMES ERICKSON: After becoming a pool shark he originated a new game of pool without a cue.

Here lies ARDEN FOSSE: He became another Fearless Fosdick like his pop.

Here lies JANICE FROSLEE: She was a girl bronco buster in the Henning Rodeo and rode her dad's steers.

Here lies EUGENE GREFE: He became a well-known inventor, and invented a cow with faucets.

Here lies GAYLE NYHUS: He was awarded the "Norwegian", a medal given away by Norway . . . they liked his accent.

Here lies MARLYS OLSON: She relaxed in a swivel chair, and spent all her time behind . . . . a desk.

Here lies WILMAR POST: He accepted the position of water boy with the Harlem Glob Trotters.

Here lies DONNA POWELSON: Along with Walt Disney, she created a new character called "Abagail Mouse."

Here lies CHARLOTTE RONNING: She made the name Almora famous by extending Almora to Henning.

Here lies ANITA SAUCK: She opened a factory introducing Anita Socks. They called it the Anita Toe and Heel Company.

Here lies ALICE SHORES: Because of her great height, she accepted a position with a "Skyhook Company."

Here lies HELEN SHORES: She remained in the Inman Air Force Base and made the army her career.

Here lies LELAND SHULTZ: He was a cowboy model and made levies famous throughout Montana.

Here lies ARDELLA SOEHL: Because of her windy ability, she became official whistle blower for the Laker's team.

Here lies DON STUEVE: He was captain of the U. S. S. Neversail before it sank in the gale.

Here lies ELDON STUEVE: The blonde haired boy of Inman who made farming the most envious vocation of the country wrote books on farming.

Here lies MARLIN SWANBERG: He invented a seedless watermelon and combless honey, without the bees.

Here lies EVELYN THORSON: She became Queen of the Folden Ball Club.

Here lies RHETA WESTAD: While touring with Mario Lanza, she held a concert at the Detroit Lakes Water Carnival.

Here lies HARLEY WHEELER: He held his water-boy position throughout his life and worked in a restaurant, carrying water glasses.

Here lies JOAN WHITING: Horses changed colors when Joan came into the light . . . . She raised pastel horses.

Here lies ELEANOR PETERSON: She devoted her entire life to research on "How to keep busy in old age."

Here lies MARILYN SYVERSON: She became the whitehouse housekeeper and was put in charge of all the president's diet slips.

Do You Remember?

It was the old unremodeled Freshman assembly that sixty intelligent bright-eyed wits came booming into, and took the name of Freshmen . . . assembling from Vining, Almora, and Ottertail. Speaking of intelligence, we were then ready to absorb all knowledge that was in store for us and to look at us now . . . WOW!! Doesn't it prove that we did?? We went down in history as being the first class not to be initiated . . Remember the dividing of sections . . . algebra class and Mr. Fjelstad . . . Chester's '33 Chev . . . those Freshman romances . . . Mrs. Henrionette . . . Ivanhoe . . . Elroy . . . Mr. Abel's many lectures to a certain group of girls . . . the Freshmen contributing one Jr. High Cheerleader . . . a certain girl receiving a black eye in Algebra class . . . the picnic in the spring with a number of kids trying the cool waters of Leaf Lake and six girls keeping seats warm in the Sr. Assembly after school and the boys getting away with it . . . and some trying to skate for the first time . . . ouch!.

Our return as Sophomores in the fall of '49 dismissed our title of green freshies and also minus a few of them. By now we felt big and proud to enter the Senior High . . . Remebrer Marlys's return . . . the six waiters and waitresses in an "Old Fashioned Garden" . . . Sophomore boys taking the championship in intra-mural Basketball tournies . . . "Ask the Professor" . . . with our class contributing one of the main characters . . . Taxi service . . . the picnic in the spring with a certain boy and girl making it a night to remember . . . which brought the sophomore year to a close.

Our return as respected Juniors proved to be a bang-up year full of events, studies, hard work, and MORE FUN!!! Remember Mr. Abel and Dick Bode leaving our midst during the summer . . . our class was gradually dwindling down, but we gained a few . . . not enough to make up the loss though . . .Homecoming parade with the Juniors winning first place with our "String Mills" float . . . Ken oversleeping in History class . . . Harry Iverson . . . "Miss Jimmy" . . . Gene in a dress . . . Droopy . . . the hen under the waste-paper basket . . . Brier Mountain girls . . . the band and chorus going to Glenwood . . . Junior girls taking first place in intra-mural Basketball games . . . "Ship Ahoy" . . . the light house, red, white, and blue . . . U.S.S. Neversail, and the deck apes . . . and to top it all off . . . the rest of the evening, with a bunch of girls staying up all night at a cottage, and various other hilarious incidents too numerous to mention . . . The Seniors giving us a picnic and roller-skating at Leaf Lake, which proved to be too dull for some . . . decorating the gym for commencement and ushering the Seniors in, with tears in our eyes . . . . .

After a much too short vacation, we enrolled for the fourth and last time at Henning High. Now taking the title of Seniors, we were ready to take on any difficult task that was to face us. After Virginia and Shrimp leaving our midst, and a few going through the rite of matrimony, our class settled at forty-six. Some Senior boys proved their football ability by contributing to the top-notch team . . . then there was Homecoming and the boys losing a heartbreaker by one point . . . the parade with the crowning of the king and queen at the half . . . and them feeling so upset about the game that afterwards they upset the float by both of them sitting on it at the same time . . . the success of the party in the evening . . . Grefe breaking his foot . . . winning 100% in activity ticket sale and thus winning a half-day off . . . "A Little Honey" . . . making a big hit . . . Grefe and his horse-radish sandwich . . . Scoots and Pegasus . . . the jug of rootbeer back-stage . . . our able grandmother and her stockings that wouldn't stay up . . . Stueve and Fosse making All-Conference . . . the various parties during Christmas vacation with New Year's Eve as a climax . . . Electing Ken and Phyl for Editors of this annual . . . the dispute over class color, motto, flower, etc . . . Both Senior girls and Senior boys winning championship intra-mural Basketball tournies . . . our half-day off . . . Senior Day . . . Mrs. Halvorson's helpful guidance and taking our Social Classes for business meetings . . . Our last banquet in High School . . . Baccalaureate, and the last time all forty-six of us will be together . . . Commencement . . . May 28th . . . marching up the aisle in maroon gowns to listen to P. J. Iverson, Agricultural College, Fargo, North Dakota . . . and from there we go "OUT OF SCHOOL LIFE INTO LIFE'S SCHOOL."

Class Will

We, the Seniors of 1952, being of sound mind and memory (?) do make, publish, and declare this to be our last Will and Testement as follows, hereby revoking all other former Wills by us at any time made . . . . .

Willy Post bravely leads off by willing his 3 years of successful basketball to Paige Ferweda.

Marlys Olson, after much consideration, wills her flirty disposition to Delores Holm.

Curtis Tollefson, you lucky boy, you're getting Arden Fosse's hard head, to be used in football only.

Gordon Hetland gladly wills his punctuality to Ellen Egan and his oratoric ability to Valarie Buchan.

Lila Anderson, you're going to be a big girl next year, because LaVern Bendickson wishes his height to you.

Jim Erickson ties up his admit slips with a blue ribbon, and hesitantly hands them over to the faculty for signing. This should keep them busy throughout the coming year.

Etta Hofferbert would like to will her saying, "The thing I want most out of school is myself" to Dick Johnson.

Marlowe Klever . . . . you're getting Evelyn Nelson's Norwegian accent.

Irmgard gives her overstuffed notebook to Floyd Johnson.

Don Stueve wills his line . . . . to be used in football only (?) to Ed Christopherson.

Marilyn Syverson agrees to share her favorite pastime, flirting, to Gladys Peterson and her participation in high school activities to Floyd Anderson.

Alice Shores wills her tiny waistline to Maurice White and her red hair to Darrel Holm.

Gayle Nyhus, with a twinkle in his big brown eyes, wills them to Arlene Volden.

Watch it, Joan Koepke, you are the recipient of Marlyn Brutlag's witty remarks.

Ken Christopherson would like to will his ability to sleep in class without snoring to Earl Huffman.

Harley Wheeler regretfully wills his build to George Smith.

Oh, Oh!! Eldon Stueve just willed his shyness in the presence of the opposite sex to John Ferber . . . run for your life, John!

Eugene Grefe just turned over his book, "Behave Yourself" to Dick Peterson.

Norman Ellenson wills his ability to repair broken-down Chevs to Rita Hoff.

Arvilla Chase believes she will give Shirley Hill her ability of oratory speech.

Venita Reams will be glad to know she is getting Chorlotte Ronning's bottle of vitamin pills. Charlotte throws in her pep to Martha Marketon, also.

To Frances Rakstad go Helen Shores unspoken thoughts.

Dina Cox would like to turn her Tuba over to Milton Lindrud and her curly hair to Gordon Hagen.

Class Will

To Fred Swanberg goes Frances Juvrud's ability to get excused from class. She also gives her dignity to Lois Bendickson.

Loren Thalman, you lucky boy, you receive Rheta Westad's discarded Mercury . . . broken shift and all.

Arlene Aune, without hesitation, wills her report card to Joyce Dickhaut.

Joanne Lueders gives Lola Rutherford her free pass to Mills.

Marlin Swanberg agrees to give his wide vocabulary to LaVilla Losher.

Shirley Melvold is going to be in fine shape next year . . . with Barbara Albright's trombone mute.

Eleanor Peterson, after much coaxing, agrees to tell Delores Witt her secret of how to go out at night and yet be present in school the next morning.

Phyl Amundson agrees to share her pep with Donald Lind. She also throws in her dramatic ability for good measure.

Dick Brogard wills his ability to drive a caterpillar to Loretta Wangen.

Donald Jensen need not worry about his future occupation, because Gordon Jensen wills his 4-H technique to him.

Phyllis Andersen gladly leaves her locker 3 to Martin Brink.

Lorraine Anderson leaves her quietness to Beverly Holmgren . . . also her ability to keep calm at a basketball game.

Orville Heard wills his undying interest in schoolwork to Charles Johnson.

Janice Froslee would like to give her excessive height to Lenore Peterson.

As he doesn't feel able to make use of it any more, Clarence Nelson sorrowfully gives his rest period in Social Class to Barbara Fosse. Be sure to bring your own pillow, Barb.

Leland Schultz was going to be stingy and not will anything; but we finally convinced him he could no longer make use of his soprano voice and he has agreed to give it to Robert McGregor.

Evelyn Thorson turns over her desk in the library to Carlene Bendickson.

Donna Powelson, after polishing them frantically, hands her cowboy boots over to Geroline Anderson.

Ardella Soehl wills her temper to Ardell Lueders.

To Marcia Olson goes Anita Sauck's permission to buy gas at a certain gas station in Henning.

Joan Whiting wills her flirty eyes to Ivan Quick and throws in her report card for good measure.

Josie Barker wills her shyness to Ellen Sanda.

And last . . . but not least . . . . Merlin Bendickson wills his interest in women to Lyle Nyberg!

P. S. To Bud and Ed, our janitors, we leave our waste paper, and to the faculty, we leave our make-up slips . . . and to old Henning High, goes the memory of our revolutionary class.
